DATALINE COULD HELP SERIOUS RESEARCHERS

The college library is associated with the Utah State Library in providing Dataline service.

Basically, Dataline provides a bibliographic list in any one of approximately 120 areas. You might be seeking information on Teacher Education, Drug Abuse, Pollution Control, American History, Foundation Grants, or one of a number of other areas. Dataline can help focus on the bibliography you need.

To use the service visit personally with librarian Alexander Stecker (Technology Building library).

UTC'S ALICE SMITH NAMED ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF WOMEN'S CONSORTIUM

Alice Smith, who works on development programs relating to college employees, has been named Associate Director of Utah Women in Higher Education.

This consortium, which comprises women from all campuses of higher education in the state, is part of the regional Higher Education Resource Services.

Associated with Alice Smith are June Fulmer and Marj Bradley, the latter two women coordinating the work of the consortium on the Utah Technical College campuses.

Purpose of the consortium is to make women more effective in advanced positions of higher education. Subject areas for discussion include program planning, budgeting, public relations, decision-making and life planning. The group meets monthly and is open to all women involved in higher education.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 10th on the campus of Utah State University at 1:30 p.m. Meetings last approximately 3 hours.

POSITIVE AUDIT GIVEN COLLEGE

President James R. Schnirel advised the administrative staff that the college has recently undergone a 4-month financial audit. "We emerged from that audit, which covered fiscal matters through June 30, 1980, with flying colors," the president reported. "A few minor matters were drawn to our attention, and we are taking a look at those to see how we can affect appropriate improvements. However, I am very pleased with the positive tone of the audit, which reflects well on the work of all our people in Fiscal."
